School Board Aims At Doing Things A Little Differently

By Sue Aucella Deacon

The Andover School Committee would like to do a few things differently next year, among them budget planning, the way they review academic programs and the priority they give to discussing educational issues.

Committee members Tuesday night swapped their ideas for goals for the coming year — some described as goals for the committee, others for the superintendent, and others for the entire school system.

All agreed with Chairman Richard Neal that the school department budget should be completed by mid-February, in time to be included in the Finance Committee's town meeting report — something "we haven't accomplished yet," Neal noted. Robert Smith suggested appointing a subcommittee to work on scheduling budget discussions to make sure the school committee meets that pre-town meeting deadline.

The chairman also said he would like to "streamline the routine business aspects" of the committee's twice-monthly agendas to leave more time to "discuss matters of educational substance."

Neal complained that such topics often come up at the end of long meetings and are dealt with only briefly. Structuring "business meetings" separate from "educational meetings" each month might solve that problem, he suggested.

And the program reviews offered by program advisors during late fall and early winter committee meetings need a new format, the chairman added. Committee member Susan Poore agreed, suggesting that program advisors make two distinct presentations: one describing the programs as they exist, and another describing hopes for the coming year — preferably presented to the committee before the next year's budget is set.

Committee members said they hope to take up some long-range planning, looking three to five years into the future. Neal pointed out that the committee has yet to meet with the parents' grassroots committee that studied the elementary programs during the past year, which will be an important part of planning for the future — and he added that a secondary survey will be completed during the next few months.

Superintendent Kenneth Seifert commented that long-range planning for two or three years would be helpful, especially when deciding the future of existing school buildings.

Poore offered a list of goals for the year: Her goals included updating the committee's policy book to eliminate outdated policies; discussing academic probation, an idea she proposed earlier this year, in time to implement it in September 1984; and emphasizing the "critically important" academic skills of note-taking, research, and outlining term papers and reports.

The committee member also described the need to discuss the schools' physical plant in relation to population projections;

Walking Tall

Mike Monroe had a good view of the Fourth of July Horribles parade and activities as he stepped along the route in his Uncle Sam outfit on stilts. The Andover program, with a parade and activities at The Park proved as popular as in the past, although the heat tended to keep the attendance a little lower than previous years. ## Studying In Ireland

Dianne Jurgen of Andover celebrated our nation's birthday in a jumbo jet over the Atlantic Ocean heading for the Irish Way summer course in Ireland.

Sponsored by the St. Paul-based Irish American Cultural Institute (IACI), the Irish Way program will give 135 students from 25 states a five-and-one-half week ~~introduction to Irish life~~ and culture.

In its eighth year, the program combines the study of Irish subjects with field trips, a brief tour, exposure to traditional Irish arts and a variety of social, recreational and cultural activities. Each student also gets first-hand experience of modern Irish life by spending one week living with an Irish family. Home base for the program is Gormanton College, whose modern facilities just north of Dublin near the Irish Sea, adjoin a 14th-century castle.

Students are chosen for the program on the basis of academic and personal achievements. Scholarships, sponsored by the IACI and its chapters, the Ancient Order of Hibernians, Allied Irish Banks, the Irish Tourist Board, Aer Lingus, The Irish Institute and local Irish organizations, are awarded on the basis of accomplishment and/or need. More than $25,000, a program record, was awarded this year.

The Irish American Cultural Institute, an international non-profit public foundation, is the largest Irish organization of its kind in the U.S. Its activities include cultural and educational programs in both the U.S. and Ireland, and publication of a quarterly journal of Irish Studies, Eire-Ireland.

To Review Shawsheen Future In The Fall

Since proposed legislation that would have let Massachusetts school committees retain control of vacant school buildings for up to ten years has died in the State House, the Andover School Committee this week agreed to work more closely with the selectmen in determining the future of the Shawsheen School.

The Shawsheen will be empty sometime within the next several months, when school offices move to the old East Junior High School. The building will then be in the hands of the selectmen.

Michael Giammusso suggested the school committee bring the selectmen "more firmly in tune" with their plans to lease the building to one of several interested groups. The committee has promised to review those groups' proposals in the fall.

Committee members emphasized that they would like to keep the Shawsheen in reserve for future use as an elementary school once again, should the need arise. "It would be a tragedy to lose this asset," committeeman Donald Robb commented.

Selectmen Face Light Agenda

It appears that the selectmen will be working with an extremely light agenda when they meet at 7:30 next Monday night at Town Hall.

A brief and quiet summertime meeting is predicted, the first of two meetings scheduled for July. The board will meet twice during August before resuming their regular schedule of three meetings per month in the fall.

Hampton Beach Bus Fare Increased

Due to an increase in the contract price for the Hampton Beach shuttle bus, the Department of Community Services has been compelled to alter the fee for local residents from $3 to $4.

The fare is payable at the 8:30 a.m. signup time on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Record Number To Continue Education

Despite the grim prospect of unemployment or under-employment, more Andover High graduates have decided to continue their education in 1983 than in the past five years, the school superintendent reported Tuesday night.

Superintendent Kenneth Seifert told the School Committee that 83 percent of the town's high school grads have decided to pursue post-secondary education: 71 percent plan to attend a four-year college, and 12 percent, a two-year college.

The total figure has risen from 75 percent in 1979, 77 percent in 1980, and 78 percent in 1981 and 1982. During those years, the number planning to attend four-year college programs ranged from 62 percent in 1979 to 64 percent in the next two years and 66 percent in 1982.

'Bambi' Featured At Park

The Department of Community Services Family Movie Program in Central Park is featuring "Bambi" on Monday, July 11.

Innocent, eager and funny, Bambi romps through the woods with his new friends, Thumper (a forthright rabbit) and Flower (a shy skunk). As time and seasons pass, he learns to speak, walk, play and finally, to love.

A Hansel and Gretel Woody Woodpecker cartoon will precede the movie which begins at dusk. In the event of rain, scheduled movies will be shown on Tuesday.

Openings are available for the next three periods by calling the YWCA desk. The camp bus has several Andover stops.

Timothy Corkery (left) With Congressman James Shannon

Appointed To Naval Academy

Congressman James M. Shannon has announced the appointment of Timothy J. Corkery, 14 Cuba St., Andover, to the U.S. Naval Academy at Annapolis.

Corkery's appointment was recommended to Congressman Shannon by his advisory committee on military academy nominations, a volunteer group of Fifth Congressional District citizens which screens all applications and interviews all applicants for Shannon. Corkery competed with candidates from throughout the United States for entrance to the Academy.

"I want to encourage young people in the Fifth Congressional District to contact me if they want information on how to apply for nomination next year," Shannon said. "The experience offered at our U.S. service academies is among the best possible academic experiences available today."

Summer Program Has Openings

It's not too late to enroll children ages 4-13 in one of Kaleidoscope's minicourses held at West Elementary School, Andover, beginning Aug. 1.

There are some openings in "Movin' and Groovin'," a fast-paced two-week course for 4-6-year-olds that combines a half-morning of music (including the use of Orff instruments) with a half-morning of physical education. Specialists from the Andover Public Schools teach the course which runs from 9 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. daily.

Also open is "Spotlight!," a stimulating drama workshop where children in grades 2-5 will explore theater games, improvisations, etc., to produce their own show. Puppeteer Claire DiMeo will assist students to design, create and learn to manipulate puppets during the second week of the course, Aug. 8-12. Students may register for the two week course or for one week.

Kaleidoscope is seeking talented newspaper reporters, students who love to write articles, do interviews, create cartoons and illustrations and generally be involved in publishing "Kaleidoscope," the program's newspaper. This course, entitled Extra! Extra!, is open to children in grades 3-6 and meets from 9 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. for two weeks.

Several openings exist in the following one-week courses: Aug. 1-5 from 9 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. daily, Math-A-Magic (math enrichment for grades K-1),

A biography of each girl will appear in the United States Achievement Academy official yearbook, published nationally.

Tracy Cassell, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter I. Cassell of Andover, was named to the academy in business education and science. She was recommended by her science teacher, Robert Hatem, and her business education teacher, Mr. Pellerin. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Cassell of West Palm Beach, Florida, and Mrs. Martha Morkert of West Palm Beach.

Pamela Kostka, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kostka of Andover, was named to the academy in science. She was recommended by her science teacher, Robert Hatem. She is the granddaughter of Mrs. Mary Kostka of Whitinsville.

The Academy recognizes fewer than ten percent of all American high school students each year. Winners are selected on the recommendation of teachers, coaches, counselors or other school sponsors, and judged on the basis of academic performance, interest and aptitude, leadership qualities, responsibility, enthusiasm, motivation to learn and improve, citizenship, attitude and cooperative spirit, and dependability.

It's Magic (taught by a professional magician, Dario, for grades 3-5); 12 p.m. to 2:30 p.m. daily, Hoop Stars (basketball for ages 5-7), The Music Satellite (grades 1-3), Kung Fu (grades 1-4).

Aug. 8-12, from 9 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. daily: Flights Into Fantasy (for children entering kindergarten in the fall), Weather Wisdom (ages 3 and 4), Creative Eye (creative writing for grades 4-6); 12 p.m. to 2:30 p.m. daily, Hoop Stars (ages 7-9), Illustration Fascination (grades 2-4).

For students registered for both a morning and afternoon course, a supervised area is provided where they may eat lunch.

To register, contact Janis Baron, the director, or the Department of Community Services office in Shawshen School, Andover. Brochures are in most libraries or may be obtained from Kaleidoscope, Box 506, Andover, MA 01810.

Kaleidoscope is a non-profit, educational program which offers these summer courses in cooperation with the Andover Department of Community Services. Students from more than 20 communities have already registered and received confirmation letters. Anyone who has registered but not received a letter should contact Kaleidoscope to verify enrollment.

Our History Detailed And Nationally Registered

By Sue Aucella Deacon

There are scattered about Andover 501 structures that help tell the story of this town, either by their architecture or their history, or both.

This year those structures — among them houses, mills, offices, clubs, one apartment building and two bridges — were dignified with national recognition of their significance. They have been entered into the National Register of Historic Places.

The information the Andover Historical Commission submitted to the National Register to secure this honor is contained in a bulky loose-leaf notebook, and in its pages are detailed descriptions, photographs and brief histories of the historic properties.

That information was compiled under the direction of Marsha Rooney of the Andover Historical Commission, and submitted for nomination to the National Register's Multiple Resource program by the Massachusetts Historical Commission. With its Multiple Resource program, the National Register encourages towns and cities across the nation to document properties that help illustrate how those communities have grown and changed.

The design of the Multiple Resource nomination was "a wise choice," Marsha says. "It really does pull together a lot of information about how the community developed, and how you can see that development every day. It's really wonderful to have pulled together this capsule version of Andover's history — a visual picture of how a mill and farming community developed."

The project began three years ago, when preservation planning consultant Wendy Frontiero was hired for nine months to work on the nomination. (The consultant also developed a preservation plan for the entire town, offering her recommendations on how Andover might protect its historic properties.)

Marsha supervised Ms. Frontiero's work, and also administered funding for the $13,000 project, which came from a town meeting appropriation and matching grants from the state historical commission. Ms. Rooney and other town employees donated manpower, and the Andover Historical Society donated its Main Street office space to the project as well.

"It was an incredible amount of work," Marsha recalls, "a lot of it just plain grit work."

Starting with the Andover Historic Building Survey, completed in 1976 as "a very general survey of all the historic buildings in town," Ms. Frontiero and staff began plotting historic structures on assessor's maps, color-coding them by period and architectural style. (Commission members first drove all over town, searching for historic buildings that might have been overlooked.)

Following state historical commission guidelines, the consultant ranked the structures into three priority levels, judging them by their historic and architectural importance.

"It isn't just architecture," Ms. Rooney explains. "And it isn't just where all the famous people lived. We tried to pick out the most explanatory structures, and the ones we could document. If we had a really great house but we couldn't figure out who had lived there, then it would have less priority than one we could document."

Ms. Frontiero traced the history of the top-priority structures by researching deeds at the Essex County Registry of Deeds in Salem, supplemented by "a lot of reading about the development of Andover," Marsha says. Some of the most enlightening (and most fascinating) information she came up with is included in the nomination.

The Osgood farm, for instance, built around 1700 at 116 Osgood St., was inherited by Isaac Osgood — "a captain in the French and Indian War who is said to have always worn a wig to emphasize his position in this simple farming community." The Harding house at 6-8 Harding St. was built between 1842 and 1846 as a duplex to be shared by Sarah Harding, who was single, and Hannah Barker, a widow; its design was "a conscious response to a new social need for housing single women of modest means."

When the project was finished (and Andover was the first town in the state to file a nomination under the Multiple Resources program, right behind the city of Worcester), the historical commission had identified 42 individual historic properties and defined six major districts that include 459 historic structures, for a total of 501 structures.

Those six districts, established where "the heaviest concentrations of historic buildings" were found, are labeled Academy Hill, Andover Village Industrial, Ballardvale, Central Street, Main Street-Locke Street and West Parish Center.

The Academy Hill district includes 450 acres and 160 buildings at Phillips Academy, including those originally built for the former Abbot Academy and Andover Theological Seminary. The buildings date from 1780 to 1980, and brief histories of many are included in the nomination. (Foxcroft Hall, for example, one of the three original seminary buildings, is the oldest building still standing in the district; it was built in 1808 as a gift to the school from Phoebe Foxcroft Phillips, wife of the founder.)

Andover Village Industrial district (1814 to 1925) encompasses the Marland Mills area off Stevens Street, with its mill housing along North Main Street; Brechin Terrace, with its twentieth-century duplex mill housing; and what was once known as Abbot Village, site of the Abbot Mill and Smith & Dove Mill, including parts of Red Spring Road and Cuba Street down to the foot of Essex Street. The Tver Rubber factory is also included in this district. (And Marsha notes that the district also includes a number of "intrusions" — non-historic buildings within its boundaries.)

The mill community of Ballardvale (1835 to 1935) comprises the third district, and features Greek, Gothic, and Italianate Revival architecture. The nomination notes that the village "retains much of the intangible character which distinguishes it from the rest of Andover."

In addition to the Ballardvale Mills on Andover Street, this district's historic structures include the railroad depot on Andover Street (built around 1845-1848); Numbers 10, 12, 14 and 20 High Street (three houses and St. Joseph's Church), which form "one of Ballardvale's most attractive streetscapes"; and the Marland-Bradlee House at 228 Andover St. (1843-1848), an

Activities At The Playgrounds

West Elementary

The West Elementary Playground was off to a great start. Monday was registrations. Eric and Ian Begg, Ann Marie and David Charland, Amy and Andy Cohen and Debbie and Richard Green were among the returning playgrounders. Tuesday it rained, so playground was closed. Wednesday was a beautiful day. Thirty-eight kids traveled to Rec Park for a puppet show. Among them were Adam Ferry, Jim Gorrie, Danielle O'Connell, Cara Morrison, Christine Spignesi, John Spignesi, Andrea Spignesi, J.J. Frederick, Richard Marique, Scott Marique and Andrew Ardini. The playground all-time favorite gimp was another activity enjoyed by Whitney Bates, Kara Simko, Megan Selvitelli, Heather Reed and Billy Hoffman. Outdoor hockey has also been a popular activity, especially enjoyed by Mac Selvitelli, Keith Selvitelli, Todd Abernathy, Tyan Abernathy and Joey Sirois. Clay and coffee can banks kept a number of people busy, including Kristen Simko, Muffy Morrow, Liz Ganem and Danielle O'Connell. Thursday's crafts included black magic pictures and rock paintings. Participants included Kathy Bailey, Jennifer Baily, Andrea Spaignesi, Richard Marique, Scott Marique and Katie Hobbs. The day ended with a massive scavenger hunt. The winning team was Billy Hoffman, Todd Musterait, Kathy Bailey, John Spaignesi, Rachel Zenofsky, Todd Keyser, Sarah Faraci, Adam Pedicino, Adam Friedlander, Mary Austin, Todd Abernathy, Julie Cutler, Sam Pfeifle, Cara Morrison and David Stewart. The week ended with a cookout and Fourth of July party.

Bancroft

This year looks promising with many returning playgrounders such as the Allards, Saalfunks, Daniels and O'Handleys, along with many newcomers. Councilors are Jerry Kearns, Joanne Saalfunk and Sharon French. John Saalfunk won the bubble blowing contest and received the Big Ragoo Alligator, playground mascot. Amy O'Handley won the scavenger hunt with 11 prizes. The week ended with a pre-Fourth of July cookout.

Doherty

Monday we played a wicked game of four square and met lots of new friends like Doug and Brad Batchelder, Peter and Michael Newman, Ryan and Elizabeth Hanson, Sarah Goldin and Abby Dalton. Then we played kickball and met more people like Deron, Jennifer, Tommy, Jonathan, MaryJane, Cori and Carli and Matt. Thursday and Friday there was a picnic in the park with relay races.

South

The first week at South proved to be a fun and exciting one for everyone. One highlight of the week was the Wind in the Willows Puppet Show on Wednesday. Thursday a long and tiring hike was taken to the dairy, but it was worth the trip to get ice cream and feed the ducks. Becky Barry, along with Steve White and Joey Fillipon, at the head of the pack, kept up a fast pace. Gimp and bombardment were the favorites for the week. Mark Edlesburg, Charles Calvi and Phil Meckle have been practicing all year, judging by the way they can throw the ball. Everyone's looking forward to the bike trip to Pumps Pond and roller skating and Hawaiian Day on Friday.

Sanborn

Enthusiasm was abounding as Sanborn Playground opened for the summer; plenty of old faces, such as Kristen and Jason Garland, as well as some new ones like John and Matt Haskell. In between registering the many playgrounders, capture the flag highlighted Monday's activities. Wednesday Beth Morris, Meghan Workman and Rebecca Kady were among the 26 Sanborners to attend the puppet show, "Wind in the Willows."

On Thursday the younger member of the playground made clay sculptures and played Red Rover. The older members played touch football and soccer. Later they had an obstacle course competition which Dan Hinchey won. On Friday Sanborners brought hot dogs and hamburgers for a cookout. Attending were Amy Pierro and Katie McClune, Chris Lembo and Jay Flannelly.

Ballardvale

The Ballardvale Playground staff has two new member; Craig Silva, supervisor, and Ann Conron, aid. We have had scavenger hunts, kickball games, a four square contest and all sorts of crafts.

Tiny Tot

The first week at West Elementary started off great with some super art masterpieces such as cotton all creations, colored gravel art work and rainbow color jars. Wednesday was a very special day; Teddy Bear Day! Everyone brought their favorite Teddy and there was a special Winnie, the Pooh story and dance. Although everyone enjoyed the Winnie, the Pooh music, Joshua Theberg claimed his favorite was the Friendly Giant song. We're having our own July 4 celebration on July 5 and 8. Everyone will be dressed in red, white and blue and will all march in a very special parade.

All-Day Playground

Things started on the right track on Monday with a huge playground kickball game in which everybody participated. Matt Zipeto, Barry Dubois, Herbert Foster and Lena Wells showed they can really kick the ball. Tuesday was highlighted by fantastic bead jewelry made by Jennifer and Alyssa Farris and Courtney Cunningham. Kelly Moriarty, Steve Battles and Lisa Allen starred in a fantastic Medic game. Wednesday everyone had fun at Rec Park playing kickball with West Elementary and watching a puppet show. Jonah Corneau, Herby Foster and Jennifer Buck showed their talents by making puppets of their own on Thursday while Brenda Brightman and others made pot holders. Tommy Christopher and Woody Sankar modeled great hats on Friday's Hat Day and everybody enjoyed a cookout. Of course, everyone had fun all week swimming in the pool.

Bancroft Preschool

Bancroft Preschool is in full swing and having a ball playing musical chairs, hoola hoop games and climbing through tunnels and on jungle gyms. On Thursday Bancroft School turned into a circus tent and was visited by many colorful clowns. All the clowns made glittery hats and went on a peanut hunt. All the costumes were great and everyone went home with first prize. On Friday there was a barnyard holler and munching of treats that the chickens, cows, goats and puppies found. We also took a hike and had a picnic along the way. Next week there will be a celebration of the Fourth in the park and a birthday party for everyone. There will be a small gift exchange and decorating of cupcakes.

Sparc Park

Special Needs Park kicked off their summer events with a welcome back kickball tournament at Rec Park. Rain moved the Sparcers to North Andover Community Center for music and indoor arts and crafts. ## Andover Students Honored Local students stood out when Phillips Academy gave out its academic prizes at the end of the year. The prizes are awarded by each academic department to outstanding students, according to the terms set when the award was established, sometimes before the turn of the century, often in memory of an outstanding student or teacher. The English Department's Draper Prize, for example, has been given annually since 1867. The prize may be a medal, a book or money; it is always an honor.

America's Stonehenge

Leon Morrill, executive director of the American Institute for Archaeological Research, has announced the institute's sponsorship of an extensive excavation at America's Stonehenge in North Salem, N.H. America's Stonehenge (formerly known as Mystery Hill) is one of the largest and oldest megalithic sites in North America. The complex, a series of erratic stone walls containing large shaped standing stones, cover approximately 20 acres.

Like Stonehenge in England, America's Stonehenge was built by an ancient people well-versed in astronomy and stone construction. Through several independent surveys by qualified researchers, it has been determined that the site is a very accurate astronomically aligned calendar. It was and still can be used in determining specific solar and lunar events of the year. These events include the annual summer and winter solstices (June 21 and December 21) and equinoxes (March 22 and September 22) and can be viewed today by making special arrangements with the management of America's Stonehenge.

Evidence of the site's antiquity began to emerge in 1969 when enough charcoal was found at an excavation for analyzing by the carbon-14 method. The result was an age determinant of 3,000 years. In 1970, an additional radiocarbon dating showed that America's Stonehenge was at least 4,000 years old.

Volunteers will be charged a fee for tools, tuition and campsite space. If interested, contact Prof. John Pendergast, P.O. Box 425, Tyngsborough, MA 01879.

A Pilgrim Wedding

Visitors to Plimoth Plantation may join in songs, sports, teasing the groom and giving advice to the bride and groom when Mary Warren weds Robert Bartlett in a traditional English country wedding in the 1627 Pilgrim Village on Saturday, July 9.

The all-day event will begin with flower gathering and the making of garlands and favors for the bride, her attendants, and the couple's bed chamber. Garlands will include rosemary for faithfulness and remembrance, sage for long life, and marjoram for grace.

Village men will share tales with young Bartlett and women will discuss the advantages of maidenhood and marriage. Visitors may offer their advice to the bride or the groom.

In view of visitors, Mary will be dressed in elegant Pilgrim attire. Groomsmen will escort Mary while bridesmaids escort Robert to an open green where the wedding ceremony will take place. As they march, Villagers will strew rushes, herbs and flowers along the path in front of them.

After pronouncing the couple wed, the wedding party and guests will cast wheat over the newlyweds to symbolize fertility.

The wedding feast will be held outside the Bradford house.

Kaynor, the newest member of the group, is well known for his contra dance fiddling in both New England and New York state where he was a member of The Jubilee String Band.

This performance is funded in part by the Andover Savings Bank, Andover Clean Craft and Kenneth P. Thompson Co. In the event of rain, scheduled concerts will be held on Thursday.

Added Feature

Patriotic bunting was added to the Street of Memorial Flags program for the Fourth of July. The committee decided to make the addition of the bunting to the town house, library and public safety center to enhance the appearance of the memorial flags placed along Main and Elm streets. Additional flags have been donated to the Veterans Services office and to the fire stations and it is anticipated that by the time the flags are placed for Veterans Day, the program may be extended down Main street toward Shawsheen Square.

Goals

analyze the attendance policy and discipline programs; name liaisons to all committees working on behalf of the school committee; and keep track of and review all pilot programs within the system.

Donald Robb said he would like to see the committee set new guidelines for job descriptions, goal setting and salaries for non-union personnel (which would include top administrators like the superintendent and assistant superintendent).

Committee members also asked to be kept up-to-date, during the coming year, on use of cable television at the schools and the new high school performing arts center, and on the beginning of a new mathematics program and a new maintenance system.

Neal said the committee would distill those goals into three or four "general areas" to be described in their annual direction letter. The committee will discuss a draft of that letter during their next meeting, scheduled for Tuesday, Aug. 9.

Exam Review

Laboure Junior College, 2120 Dorchester Avenue, Boston, will offer an intensive, six-part review program Aug. 9-13 for individuals planning to take the October American Dietetic Association Registration Examination.

The sessions will be Tuesday-Friday from 6:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. and Saturday from 9 a.m. to noon and 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. Registration deadline is Friday, July 29.

School Bus Coordinator Post To Be Phased Out Next Year

By Sue Aucella Deacon

The School Committee this week voted to phase out the full-time position of transportation coordinator, currently held by Kathleen Casey, during the first half of the 1983-1984 school year.

The committee agreed to phase out the position on a four-one vote, with Michael Giammusso dissenting, despite the business manager's recommendation that the position be left intact for the entire school year.

The transportation coordinator's duties include scheduling bus routes, working with bus contractors and handling questions and complaints from parents.

Business Manager Francis Paul said the transportation coordinator's responsibilities could be assumed by an employee from the purchasing department. Paul called combining the duties of those two existing positions into one new position "a natural marriage," but said the transition period should last a year.

Beginning next year the schools will use fewer bus contractors, and those contractors will assume more responsibility than in the past, the manager said. He suggested that the transportation coordinator remain a full-time employee for the next year to ensure "an orderly transition" and "eliminate as much crisis as possible."

But Donald Robb moved to phase out the position during the first semester, saying the new bus contracts ought to be running smoothly by early November.

Susan Poore said that while she favored eliminating the coordinator's position, she was "not sure" she would favor Paul's recommendation for combining two positions. Chairman Richard Neal asked the business manager to return next month with an explanation of how the merger of two positions would work.

Later in the meeting, the committee voted unanimously to accept the business

Meyers In Nicaragua

Carletta and Thomas Meyers, 17 Rennie Drive, Andover, are with a group of 150 American church leaders, journalists and celebrities touring Nicaragua through July 10.

The group includes such well known individuals as Dr. William Sloane Coffin, Bianca Jagger and former U.S. Attorney General Ramsey Clark.

Objectives of the trip are to protest U.S. government support for the war against Nicaragua, to join with the religious community of Nicaragua in their search for peace and to join in a vigil of prayer at the Nicaraguan-Honduran border.

According to Thomas Meyers, "The Peace action will include briefings on the social, political and economic situation as well as meetings with government and opposition leaders. On July 6, the border vigil will take place and on July 7 there will be a candlelight vigil in front of the U.S. Embassy in Managua to protest U.S. support for the 7,000 ex-somocista mercenaries currently attacking Nicaragua."

Cooling Task

It wasn't that bad a deal after all, volunteering to work the dunk tank at the Andover Fourth of July festivities Monday. Ted Boudreau, teacher-coach at Doherty Junior High volunteered his services and found being a victim was refreshing in the hot, humid atmosphere of the holiday.

Pursue The Ramp

In what would seem to be a never-ending quest for traffic relief in the Ballardvale area, there now would appear to be a glimmer of hope for a slip-ramp from Route 93 into the Lowell Junction industrial area.

A traffic consultant informed selectmen last week that such a ramp would be possible, if the effort toward a complete interchange on the interstate highway were dropped.

While the cloverleaf entrance and exit into the industrial area is the more desirable, the indication by state authorities to the consultant that a slip ramp was a more viable alternative, indicates that the pressure for relief must now be directed toward that end.

As most local residents and administrators are aware, for some incomprehensible reason, traffic relief for Ballardvale residents has been ignored for over a quarter of a century by state officials, despite Andover's commendable efforts in improving the town and state's industrial climate through municipally-assisted development of the Lowell Junction Industrial Park.

When Route 93 was under construction, local and state officials went to Washington, D.C. to attempt to convince highway officials that a road into the Lowell Junction area would be beneficial, particularly at a time when construction crews were already working in the area.

At the time, there was no industry in the area, thus the reasoning, while sound to the proponents, fell on deaf ears.

Since that time the area developed rapidly, assisted by municipal funding of utility extensions and town road improvements.

Various state administrations have told Andover officials of their intent to assist the town in providing highway and safety improvements, particularly through an interchange.

Various alternatives have been proposed over the years, some of them a bit ridiculous, such as running a new street for miles off Dascomb Road into the industrial area.

A former governor, visiting Andover a short time before taking office indicated that the interchange would be one of his first priorities. Visiting Andover a few months later, the governor confessed to being unaware of the need for relief there, but would instruct his staff to begin working on it the following morning. The governor is no longer in office and the planned relief never got off the drawing board, obviously.

Pursuing a course which would provide a slip ramp into the industrial area seems then the proper course, despite the fear that this proposal, like others will be shunted to the back burner like all others.

But, if there is a glimmer of hope in pushing for such a relief valve, then it should be actively advocated by Andover officials and residents, with some assistance from the neighboring towns of Tewksbury and Wilmington who share in some of the benefits Lowell Junction industries have brought to the area.

It is conceivable that operators of the large trucks which travel Ballardvale streets, and commuters, don't like using those thoroughfares any more than the residents who suffer the inconvenience of the increased traffic and the accompanying safety hazards.

If for no other reason than to satisfy the patient Ballardvale residents, it is suggested that strong initiative toward acquiring the slip ramp be initiated immediately.

Down The Years With The Townsman

75 Years Ago — July 1908

At the Fourth of July races held in Lawrence, Saturday, William McCreadie of this town won the mile race, defeating some of the best runners in this vicinity. His prize was a beautiful gold medal.

Tuesday was the hottest day of the season in Andover. Thermometers registered all the way from 90 to 102 in the shade about noon and it certainly was oppressive. In some of the rooms at the factory of Tyer Rubber Company the men were sent home as the heat was such that the men could not stand it.

The south section of the town loses an excellent citizen in the death of Mr. Charles Greene. As town officer, neighbor and friend he filled well his position in the life of the community, and his passing takes away one more of the old-fashioned type of New England citizenship.

50 Years Ago — July 1933

A fire cracker thrown into the Colonial theatre last Monday evening between performances caused a partition fire which, fortunately, did not make much headway before the local department extinguished it. The theatre was empty at the time.

Only about ten men who are able to work are being aided by the town at present, these being men who were in general too old to secure work in the mills. Six Andover men have recently been added to the state mosquito control work, after Dr. Daly had got in touch with the local representatives. The suspension of the Emergency committee has meant very little difference to the welfare account.

The change in postal rates here in Andover has brought to the post office little besides confusion. The new rate is two cents for first-class letters mailed in the Andover postal district to the same district. However, much mail had to be returned to the senders for additional postage when the recipients proved to be on their vacations out of town.

25 Years Ago — July 1958

Haggetts pond is about ten inches below high water mark — "The best situation the pond has been in for many years," according to water superintendent Donald Bassett. He said the early spring rainfall, which filled the drought-depleted pond to overflowing, provided as much rain as might ordinarily be expected through a full season.

Miss Norma Jean Peatman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Peatman of Cutler road, will leave later this month for Austria, where she will be an Exchange Student for one year. She is going under the program sponsored by the United Church of Christ, through the International Christian Youth Exchange with headquarters in New Windsor, Md.

The Bradlee School will be boarded up — but retained by the School Committee for possible future use. The Committee decided to retain control of the structure, which will be vacant this September when the South school opens. Steadily increasing school populations and uncertainty over future demands were cited as reasons for keeping the building in reserve.

Lowell street, near the intersection at North Main street, will be tied up for several days as the Shawsheen Highlands sewer line is started. Work began Monday morning on the new line, with traffic diverted away from the excavation.

10 Years Ago — July 1973

A building boom of sorts continues in Andover, as indicated by six-month figures released by Building Inspector Arthur Peatman. Through June of this year, permits have been issued for 86 new homes, the same total as that of a year ago when the town experienced the largest amount of new home starts in its history.

An assistant town manager has been appointed to begin his duties here, Aug. 13.

Sheldon S. Cohen, 26, a New Jersey native, currently an administrative assistant in the Norfolk, Va. Redevelopment Authority, was named to the new post with the approval of the selectmen. Cohen will receive a salary of $13,300.

Hyman Krinsky, popular Park street junk dealer, has again proven to be one of Andover's leading citizens, maintaining his record of being the first resident to pay his real estate taxes. For the past several years Hyman has trekked the short distance from his place of business on Park street to the town house immediately following receipt of his tax bill in the mail.

An $800 cash register and its undetermined contents were taken in an early Sunday morning break at Sidney P. White's Rose Glen Dairy Bar on Andover street. The break was discovered by Andover police on routine patrol at 5:55 a.m. Sunday.

It may be hot, but Andover residents are taking advantage of the traditional cooling off spot, Pumps Pond. The town's recreational swimming area has been most popular, particularly on weekends, with an added attraction of a baand concert on Sunday afternoons providing welcome relief from the sun's burning rays.

Leaving With Happy Memories

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

We are moving from Andover this week after living here 23 years. During this time we have been impressed by the friendliness, courtesy, hard work and quality of service and spirit of the employees of the Andover stores, offices, schools, banks, the post office, library and The Townsman. We would like to thank all these fine people for adding to the pleasure of our stay here. They are an important part of our happy memories of Andover.

WEEKLY SPECIAL

Economic committee doesn't agree with Reagan's rosy predictionsBy Jack Anderson and Joe Spear

WASHINGTON — In his press conference last week, President Reagan crowed about the turnaround in the nation's economy. Government economists' new figures, he said, show an annual growth rate of 5.5 percent in the gross national product.

But soon, the headlines will tell a different story. The Joint Economic Committee on Capitol Hill will announce some figures of its own — and they don't agree with Reagan's rosy prediction.

The committee will explain that much of the GNP's growth in the second quarter of this year was caused by the refilling of inventories. Businessmen had let their stocks dwindle during the recession.

The upshot is that the real economic growth rate is only 2.5 percent for the second quarter. The committee report will point out that this is just about what the annual growth rate was when President Reagan took office. In other words, the economy may have turned around, but it's still only back where it was when Jimmy Carter left town.

White House sources tell us, meanwhile, that there's a new version of an old idea floating around the Executive Mansion that supposedly would bolster the economy. It's a scheme to levy a three or four percent national sales tax on all goods, and it's being discussed at the highest levels of the administration. Previous presidents have referred to this as a "value-added tax."

Some of the president's economists believe that a national sales tax would accomplish two important goals. First, it would discourage consumption and thus reduce the flood of manufactured goods coming into the United States from abroad. Second, by raising prices, that tax would encourage Americans to spend less and save more. This should make available more dollars for emerging industries to borrow. Consider just one statistic: Total savings in the United States is about 6 percent of the national income; in Japan, it is about 20 percent.

Don't expect to hear a public announcement on the national sales tax proposal anytime soon, however. This is because it is a political hot potato and, our sources say, the administration won't pursue it actively until after the 1984 elections.

THE CASTRO PUZZLE: Intelligence analysts who watch Cuban dictator Fidel Castro are puzzled by recent changes in his behavior. The dossier on Castro reveals that he has always been a heavy smoker, a big drinker and a womanizer. But lately he has cut back on these vices. He's even reduced consumption of his trademark: Havana cigars.

Although the intelligence analysts are perplexed by Castro's change in lifestyle, they don't think he has changed his trouble-making ways. Top-level Reagan administration officials who have read the intelligence reports believe that Castro is actively fomenting revolution throughout Central America and especially in El Salvador and Guatemala. Nor do these officials believe Castro when he says he wants to improve relations with the United States.

POLISH POLICY: During Pope John Paul II's recent visit to Poland, various U.S. intelligence agencies monitored his every move. The reason: They wanted to see how Poland's military government reacted to the papal presence. Any hints that the generals might relax their iron grip on the Polish people could spark changes in U.S. policy.

For the past few months, a top secret inter-agency group — made up of officials from the CIA, the Pentagon and the White House — has been discussing exactly what the administration should do about the Polish situation.

Some officials are pushing for a relaxation of sanctions against Poland and will cite the successful papal visit to support their viewpoint. Other members of the group have argued strongly that the United States should throw all its support behind the outlawed Solidarity union movement.

HEADLINES AND FOOTNOTES: From Nicaragua, our associate Jon Lee Anderson reports that Eden Pastora — the famous "Commander Zero" — will temporarily abandon his battle against the forces of the leftist regime and begin a fund-raising effort. He will leave behind an internal espionage structure that will stay in place until his return. Many of his soldiers have been instructed to bury their weapons and blend into the ranks of regular civilians.

— We recently acquired some FBI records which reveal that the bureau arbitrarily labeled actor Henry Fonda a communist. The only evidence to support the charge was a document signed by Fonda, and others, denying the accusations. The FBI's reckless Red list also featured Frank Sinatra, Lucille Ball and Marlon Brando.

— Federal budget cutbacks have crippled small solar energy research firms, setting back the Energy Department's solar goals at least a decade. Experts now believe the United States will lose its dominant position in the area of solar energy by 1990. Japan's solar industry, which receives substantial government support, is expected to flourish.

Kitchen Design

David A. Clement, designer

A garbage disposal is a relatively inexpensive kitchen item to buy and operate and it has become closely associated with the kitchen sink. Among its uses, it helps prevent odors and clogging sinks and most sinks are now fitted to handle their installation. There are two types, the batch-fed and the continuous feed. Of the two, the batch-fed disposal is safer because, even with the switch turned on, it will not activate unless the drain plug is inserted and turned to the "on" position. Also, some zoning ordinances require a separate septic tank for a disposal. As a result, do not plan on installing one until you are certain of its draining system.

Whether you need answers to your kitchen redecorating problems, you want your entire kitchen remodeled or anything in between, WINDSOR KITCHENS will be glad to sit down with you and discuss the situation in detail. The effort we put into design is proudly shown in the finished work and we welcome all your inquiries. Stop in Mon-Thurs 9-5:30, Fri 9-8, Sat 9-2 and see us here at Rte. 125 in Ward Hill 1/2 mile north of Western Electric or phone 372-3444 for an evening appt.

HANDY HINT:

A garbage disposal switch should always be placed under the sink in the base cabinet to prevent injuries.

and moved to third when Scott Deery blasted a line drive that exploded at the shortstop's feet and skipped into leftfield for a basehit.

The Andover Gold Babe Ruth baseball team moved back into a virtual three-way tie for first place in the Greater-Lawrence League last week, extending its current win streak through three games with a pair of victories over South Lawrence East and intra-town rival Andover Blue.

Once again the pitching was sharp as righthander Chris Colsia fired a five-hitter in the 7-2 triumph over SLE at Mark Devlin Field, and righthander Kevin Rourke came back with a three-hitter as Gold nudged Blue 4-2 at the Phillips Academy field.

The two wins hiked AG's record to 7-4 in the league and 8-4 overall, while South Lawrence West finished the week at 8-4 and North Andover at 7-4.

Gold has two games remaining with North Andover, one scheduled for tonight, and the regular season finale is against South Lawrence West.

Three pitchers have combined to register the eight Gold wins, with Mark Doherty at 3-0, Colsia 3-0 and Rourke 2-1.

Top batters to date for Gold are Colsia (.333), Larry Aiello (.313), Rick Lafond (.294), Mark Doherty (.278) and Kurt Burzlaff (.278).

Andover Gold, 7-2

In addition to limiting South Lawrence East to five singles, Chris Colsia struck out nine and walked only one (three walks in 25 innings).

The only runs off Colsia were unearned, coming as a result of his throwing error which was the lone defensive mistake by Gold (only 14 errors in 12 games).

That errant throw came in the bottom of the fourth after Tim Finn spiked a leadoff single to rightfield, John Wilson reached on a fielder's choice (both runners safe) and Bob Ferraro laid down a perfect sacrifice bunt to put men at second and third. Chris Bourque followed with a safety squeeze bunt, and when the throw to first went astray, both runners scored.

Andover Gold had no luck with losing hurler Finn over the first four innings, the only baserunner in that time being Shane Smith who reached on an infield error to open the second.

Gold batted around in the fifth, however, scoring five runs on five hits.

Kevin Rourke started the rally and broke up Finn's no-hitter with a sharp one-out single to centerfield. Rourke stole second

Kurt Burzlaff looped an RBI single to rightfield and Earl Abdo belted a line drive double to left-centerfield for two runs to put Gold ahead to stay.

Leo Gravell followed with a single, advancing Abdo to third, and Abdo scored when he adroitly danced around an attempted tag at the plate on Larry Aiello's infield chopper.

Colsia completed the assault with a long sacrifice fly to rightfield, bringing home Gravell.

AG added two more runs in the sixth to make it 7-2. Mark Doherty hammered a long double up the left-centerfield gap, Rourke singled him home and eventually crossed on a two-out single by Abdo.

Colsia and Doherty rapped solid singles in the Gold seventh, but were left stranded despite a hard groundout by Matt Gibson.

Colsia breezed until the bottom of the seventh when he surrendered back-to-back two-out singles to Steve Brien and Finn. Wilson then flared a line drive to left-centerfield, but Rourke made a fine running catch to end the game.

Doherty, Rourke and Abdo slapped two hits apiece as Gold finished with 10 safeties. Doherty also contributed another strong defensive game at shortstop.

Finn went 2-for-4 to lead the East attack.

Andover Gold, 4-2

Gold parlayed some clutch pitching by Kevin Rourke, who escaped a pair of bases-loaded jams with some outstanding defense enroute to its 4-2 triumph over Andover Blue.

Rourke allowed just three hits and struck out seven, but six walks caused him several anxious moments.

The superb defense was led by centerfielder Scott Deery, who doubled up a runner at the plate with a perfect throw to kill a Blue rally.

Catcher Shane Smith called an excellent game and saved some added grief by blocking several balls in the dirt, while rightfielder Larry Aiello made a fine diving catch to open the game and Mark Doherty also came up with a big play at shortstop.

AG, whose bats have come alive with 31 hits in the last three games, collected nine safeties against the Blue.

Gold inched ahead 1-0 in the bottom of the first when Doherty drew a leadoff walk, moved to third on an errant pickoff throw and scored when Chris Colsia smacked a single to rightfield.

Smith subsequently reached on a fielder's choice and Rourke walked, but a spectacular grab of a foul pop by Blue catcher Ted Cormier ended the inning.

Aiello probably saved a run in the top of the first with his tumbling catch of Rob DiTroia's flyball. John Nuzzo later looped an opposite-field double to right, but the inning ended when Jeff Penner's hot one-hopper to third was cleanly handled by Earl Abdo.

Blue tied it in the third when 13-year-old Glenn Allard lashed a one-out single to rightfield (Aiello just missing another diving catch) and consecutive walks to DiTroia and pitcher Rob Carpentier loaded the bases.

Rourke uncorked a wild pitch to plate Allard, with the other two runners moving up to second and third.

Nuzzo followed with a deep flyball to centerfield, which Scott Deery tracked down for the second out. DiTroia, a swift runner, tagged at third, but was nailed at home when Deery unleashed a perfect one-hop strike to catcher Shane Smith who had the ball waiting and slapped on the tag.

Gold squandered an opportunity to regain the lead in the bottom of the third, as Doherty drilled a leadoff triple to left-centerfield.

A suicide squeeze attempt then failed and Carpentier alertly caught Doherty off third on a slow roller to the mound by Colsia. Smith followed with a walk, Rourke's hard liner to left went directly at Allard.

Blue loaded the bases again in the fourth on Jeff Penner's single and two-out walks to Jeff Smith and Brian Gibson. Rourke escaped the jam by fanning the next batter.

Gold made it 2-1 in the bottom of the fourth, but managed only one run despite the fact it had a double and three singles in the inning.

Aiello led with a double to rightfield, Rick Lafond beat out an infield hit and Earl Abdo laid down a bunt single to load the bases.

Doherty lifted a check-swing RBI single to right-centerfield, all runners forced to hold to see if the ball was caught.

Carpentier worked free of the bases-loaded, one-out predicament on a tapper back to the mound, forcing Lafond at home and a routine infield popout.

Gold upped the advantage to 3-1 in the fifth when Smith walked, took second on Rourke's sacrifice bunt and scored on Aiello's single. Aiello then stole second, but was cut down at home trying to score on Scott Deery's double.

Blue centerfielder Penner initiated this fine defensive play by firing to cutoff man Nick Lembo, whose relay to catcher Cormier was in time.

Blue trimmed the deficit to 3-2 in the top of the sixth as Penner walked, stole second and continued to third when the throw went into centerfield and trotted home on Lembo's long sacrifice fly to leftfield.

Gold's insurance run came in the last of the sixth. Doherty drew a one-out walk, stole second and alertly raced home on Colsia's infield roller to shortstop.

Doherty went 2-for-2 and scored two runs to pace Gold, while Aiello and Colsia added two safeties apiece.

The combined Gold and Blue teams will host a Babe Ruth All-Star squad from Falmouth for an exhibition doubleheader this Saturday afternoon.

Sharing the Jones Award, signifying outstanding contribution to the sport during the year, with teammate Susan Jenkins of Duxbury, Zaeder paced the Cardinals with a team-record 17 goals in 1982-83, the highest scoring production by a player in a season. Adding 12 assists, Zaeder was second in the squad in points with 29 and concluded her four years with 37 goals and 35 assists for 72 points. She stands second on Wesleyan's all-time career scoring list.

The daughter of J. Philip Zaeder, 24 Salem St., Andover, Zaeder is a 1979 graduate of Phillips Academy where she won three letters in field hockey, ice hockey and softball. Second-half champion Mets outplayed the first-half title-winning Cardinals 6-2 to win the overall crown on the National side. The Mets jumped on ace Cards' pitcher Mark Russell with five hits in the first inning and three runs. Ryan O'Leary's double was the key blow. The Cards struck back with two runs in the bottom of the first on two hits, a walk and an error, but could not score over the next five frames. Reliever Andy Shea got a rare start and fanned 11 and scattered three singles over the distance. O'Leary, Shea and Mark Angelos each had two hits for the winners. Defensive standouts for the Mets were Chris Stout and David Tucker; for the Cards, Jason Proctor and Barry Connors.

The Mets meet the Yankees in a best-of-three series for the town championship.

Cardinals 19 - Braves 3

With Brent Raftery, Phil Romano and Mark Russell each contributing three safeties, the Cards stayed in the pennant chase. Raftery and Jason Proctor shared the mound duties and limited the Braves stickers to four hits. The Braves outstanding rookie, Bill Batchelder, provided the offensive leadership with a long double to left.

Mets 5 - Cubs 3

The Mets edged the Cubs in a seat-squirmier to cop at least a tie for the second-half title. Mets ace Mike Troy was coasting to victory eight of the season with a 5-0 lead after five frames, with crisp double-plays in the first, fourth and fifth innings, the Mets' defense was awesome. In the sixth the Cubs' sticks came alive and Jim Hendry and Tim Hagerty had key hits as three runs came home. With two outs, after watching a potential homer twist foul, Troy got the batter to pop out. Key double plays were made by Ryan O'Leary, Jeff Lazzarino and Andy Shea. For the Cubs, all-star Hendry led all batters with three hits and Tad Lee and John Russell had defensive gems. Mark Angelos had three safeties and David Tucker and Shea added two each.

Cardinals 4 - Pirates 2

In the fifth frame the Cardinals came to life to score two runs on singles by Phil Romano, Mark Russell, Sean Gill, John Lahiff and a double by Barry Connors. The Cards all-star trio of Romano (triple, 11th extra base hit), Russell (3 hits) and Connors (12 strikeouts) were outstanding. For Frank Orlando's young team, Curt Solomon and Scott Lanouette each had a double and single. Solomon also pitched well in a losing effort.

Cubs 5 - Cardinals 4

In the continuation of a suspended seven-inning tie, Tim Hagerty hit a double to right to drive home Jim Hendry with the run that ended Cards' hopes for a second-half title. Tad Lee stifled Cardinals' bats in the eighth and ninth to record the victory.

Cubs 4 - Cardinals 1

The Cubs played flawless baseball to gain second place over the Cards. John Russell displayed all-star form in pitching perfectly over three innings. Tad Lee and Steve Mollineaux also shared pitching duties most effectively against the power-laden Cards. Defensively, infielders Lee and Al Minichiello threw out runners at the plate and Sean Darwin and Tim Hagerty made outfielding look easy. Cubs stickers were Jim Hendry (3), Russell (2) and Danny Perris (2). For Bill Russell's club, Phil Romano and Frank Morey each had extra-base hits.

From Germany, the most aerodynamic sedan America has ever driven.

The new Audi 5000S,
voted Europe's "Car of The Year."

Audi Six years ago, our German engineers set out to build the world's most aerodynamic luxury sedan.

The end result is a luxury sedan so advanced that 53 motoring journalists from 16 European countries overwhelmingly voted the new Audi 5000S Europe's Car of The Year.

Form is Function. Our newest Audi looks so beautiful because it is so aerodynamic. The 5000S reflects our long-held belief that form is function.

It manages wind resistance better than any luxury sedan because its sleek body styling has the lowest drag coefficient of any sedan in America: 0.33. The silhouette of the new 5000S is so air "slippery" that it actually manages to utilize onrushing wind to press down the front and back ends for better traction.

The Aerodynamics Of An Exotic Sports Car. The 5000S is very fast. Zero to 50 in eight seconds. Take it through a hairpin corner. And feel it respond. Engineered with 53 years of frontwheel drive sophistication, a high-efficiency, five-cylinder engine and a refined, quick-reaction suspension system.

Innovative, flush-mounted side windows, plus bonded front and rear windows, provide panoramic visibility and an almost unheard-of quiet.

Engineered Quality Backed By Our Outstanding New Warranty. To ensure its high-quality engineering, we've road tested the new 5000S over 3.2 million kilometers in Europe, Africa and America. Because of our confidence in its high reliability, this Audi is covered by our new 24-month, unlimited mileage warranty.*

A Very Reasonable Price. Perhaps most startling is the price: $15,800** for all this superior-quality German engineering. It includes an impressive list of standard-equipment features. Notably, automatic climate control, cruise control, power windows, central door locking, light alloy wheels and full instrumentation with tachometer. In addition, this new Audi offers our new electronic Auto Check safety system. It automatically monitors thirteen of the 5000S's vital systems.

Computerized
Auto Check System

All of this close attention to detail helps make the new 5000S one of the most carefully designed and engineered automobiles in the world today. In a review of the 5000S, Car and Driver concluded: "Watch out for this car, everybody else will have to." Our sentiments exactly.

Andover Auto Body - For Complete Auto Body Work

Rely on Andover Auto Body, 2 Gradall Lane (behind 85 Essex St.) for all your complete domestic and foreign auto body needs. Opened in January (the oldest independent auto body shop in Andover) Andover Auto Body's owner Dave Townsend has over twenty years of auto body experience.

No job is too big (or small). All types of body work from a totally wrecked car to custom body work is done. With all the modern equipment including the construction of a new paint room, Andover Auto Body can meet your needs.

Andover Auto Body specializes in floor boards, fiberglass and big trucks as well as all types of welding. Many area truckers count on Andover Auto to service their rigs.

If you have an idea that requires custom body work let Andover Auto Body help you make it a reality. For a recent customer Andover Auto cut a Thunderbird in half and put it back together with a pick-up truck's back end. This six wheeled luxury pick-up truck is something to see.

Another time Andover Auto cut a Subaru in half, built a completely new frame and put it back together again. So for your custom auto body work, let Andover Auto Body rearrange and rebuild to your specifications.

When your car requires a paint job, Andover Auto Body will give you top quality results. First they completely sand down your car. Then it is pre-primed and a minimum of seven coats of paint are applied. Paint color matching completes your car's beautiful new exterior.

A Massachusetts licensed appraiser, Andover Auto gives free insurance (and other) estimates. They'll also price and repair windshields and windows for you.

With over thirty years combined experience, the crew at Andover Auto Bodyowner Dave Townsend, Joe Legros, helpers Mark and John and secretary Nancy Townsend can offer your car a beautiful new look. Open Monday-Friday 8 a.m.-5 p.m. Call 470-2485.

History

"impressive" three-story mansion.

The Central Street district, from the Baptist Church to Phillips Street, "has always been the social and religious core of Andover, architecturally and visually its most impressive neighborhood," the nomination states. The handsome homes on the street represent a range of architectural styles, from "the charming Kneeland-Marland cottage" at the corner of Chestnut Street (now called the "Rose Cottage") to Samuel Abbot's "ostentatious Georgian-style home" at 47 Central St. In addition to the Baptist church, the district includes South Church and the Episcopal Church.

The Main Street Locke Street district was formed to catch what couldn't be defined as part of Phillips Academy, Marsha explains. It includes the familiar Amos Blanchard House at 97 Main St., home of the Andover Historical Society; but also the November Club on Locke Street (1891); the Caronell Court Apartments on Main Street, the town's first apartment building (1923-1926); and the Mary Ballard House at 1 Punchard Ave. (which originally faced Main Street, but was turned toward Punchard Avenue during the twenties), circa 1885, "one of Andover's best-developed Queen Anne style designs."

The last district, West Parish Center, includes the West Parish Church as its "jewel", the church cemetery and church buildings, and farmhouses that display "a lot of various architectural styles just in this little section," Rooney says.

These include the Abbot Stanyan-Boynton House at 173 Lowell St. (circa 1780), two and one-half stories high and "articulated by large, elegantly detailed windows"; the Osgood Barnard House at 174 Lowell St., built around 1810 for a busy shoemaker; and the C.A. Holt house at 202 Shawsheen Road, built around 1872 to 1884 as "an outstanding example of the Queen Anne Eastlake style in Andover. This home exhibits all the eccentricity for which the period is known" — including elaborate gable screens and decorative shingling.

Descriptions of the 42 individual properties include much more detail on the history and architecture of each property, Marsha points out. And although these include Andover's most easily recognizable historic properties — the Bradlee School, the Abbot-Baker house at the corner of Argilla Road and Andover Street, Town Hall, the Musgrove building, the Lanam Club — they also include many lesser-known properties, such as the J.T. Abbot House at 34 Essex St. (Built around 1844, this "charming Gothic cottage contains some of Andover's most lively ornamentation in the style," the nomination notes.)

The owners of each property have been presented with a certificate describing their home as part of the National Register of Historic Places. That designation will have little impact on "99 percent" of them, Ms. Rooney says: "It is mostly honorary. It's nice to be on the National Register." (Owners of income-producing properties, however, may be able to earn tax credits for rehabilitating their buildings.)

The designation offers little protection for the structures, Marsha adds, unless government funds are to be used in renovations. In that case, the state or federal government will take part in the planning process.

Someday, Marsha would like to see the page after page of information documented in the nomination tied up in "a nice glossy package with a sound and light show." For now, however, it is contained in thick notebooks that can be studied at the Andover Historical Society, Memorial Hall Library, the Oliver Wendell Holmes Library at Phillips Academy, and at the Community Development and Planning department.

The director hopes townspeople will find out where these historic structures are — and that the owners, especially, will come in to learn more about their property. (Any new or corrected information they have to offer will also be welcome, she notes: "I wish we could have talked to every owner, and found out what they know and what they assume about their property. That would have been most wonderful.")

"There are so many ways to enjoy local history," Ms. Rooney says. "This seems to be one more of them."

Feeley Is Elected To Board

Thomas M. Feeley, managing partner of Feeley & Driscoll CPAs of Boston and Nashua, has been elected to the Salem State College Development Fund, Inc., board of directors.

Founded in 1977 by a prominent group of business and community leaders, the Development Fund, Inc., is a private, non-profit organization committed to helping Salem State College fulfill its educational and economic service mission through raising, administering and distributing private funds.

College President James T. Amsler congratulated Feeley on his appointment. "The board and the college are fortunate to have a director with Tom Feeley's experience supporting the college."

A graduate of Babson and Bentley, Feeley is active in professional and civic organizations. He is the president of the Melrose Board of Alderman and vice president of the Massachusetts Society of CPAs.

Feeley resides in Andover with his wife, Joan. They have four children.

At Newbury

Colleen A. Driscoll, 8 Joseph St., Andover, has been accepted to the Fashion Merchandising fall semester at Newbury Junior College's Boston Campus.

Newbury Junior College is accredited by the New England Association of Schools and Colleges and offers 28 major fields of study with nine locations throughout the greater Boston area.

School Bus

manager's recommended bid specifications for special education and extra-curricular buses.

All extra-curricular buses will be bid under one contract, including buses for athletic events and field trips. Special education buses will be bid in three-year contracts. Paul noted that the bid specs were designed to "minimize the need for administrative contact" in overseeing those contracts.

College Study Course Set

Many college freshmen-to-be think they know how to study. Many know they don't. In either case, it is a problem that has caused complications for many bright, but unprepared persons struggling to make the adjustment to a new college study experience.

A "How to Study in College" course, developed by two Purdue University professors, Robert F. Schwarz and the late H.D. Murdock, will be offered July 25-29 by the Andover-North Andover Y.M.C.A. Cathy Dawson, program director, said the course provides useful, practical answers to such questions as: Where's the best place to sit in a lecture? What's the one technique that will make you the first one to complete successfully laboratory projects? What two simple study techniques will almost guarantee one letter grade higher in every course? What one idea can make it possible to study a textbook 24 percent faster? When is studying with the radio on a good idea? What is the secret to not being up-tight during an exam? What is the easy way to write the first draft of a term paper?

The first year of college is commonly the crucial year, Schwarz said. "This course, which we are so pleased to offer to college-bound students from the Greater Lawrence area, is designed to prepare them for that freshman experience, to provide them with practical information, basic skills, inside tips and confidence that will give them that all-important head start on campus. It can be a confusing environment for the college beginner. This course is tailored to overcome the problem and to make the transition from high school to college a pleasant one and a successful one."

He emphasized that the course is of benefit to good students as well as marginal ones, and that adults returning to, or starting, college will find much in the course to help relieve their anxieties.

Registrations are being taken at the Andover-North Andover Y.M.C.A., 165 Haverrhill St., Andover. For further information, call Cathy Dawson.

Villella In Boston

The Boston School of Ballet, the official school of The Boston Ballet, is proud to announce the guest teaching of Edward Villella, July 11-15, and Helgi Tomasson, July 25-29, at its Summer Dance Program, 19 Clarendon Street, Boston. Both of these renowned dancers will teach classes in advanced classical ballet during the Summer Dance Program, an intensive 8-week session running from June 27 - August 19, comprised of pre-professional dance students from throughout the United States, Canada, and Europe.

One of the most celebrated American male ballet dancers, Edward Villella began his dance career at the School of American Ballet. At the age of 17, Mr. Villella was invited to join the New York City Ballet where he was immediately featured in leading roles, such as the boy in Jerome Robbins' Afternoon of a Faun. He was promoted to soloist a year later, and became a principal dancer with the company just two years after that. Mr. Villella has been identified with many roles and ballets in New York City Ballet's repertoire, the most famous being the 1960 revival of the late George Balanchine's 1929 masterpiece, Prodigal Son.

Mr. Villella was the first American dancer to dance with the Royal Danish Ballet, the only American to be asked to dance an encore at the Bolshoi Theater in Moscow, danced Stars and Stripes for President Kennedy's inaugural, and has given command performances for Presidents Johnson, Nixon, and Ford. In recent years Mr. Villella has served as one of America's leading spokesmen for the arts, and for dance in particular, discussing everything from his involvement in ballet as a young star to the artistry of George Balanchine. In 1979 Mr. Villella was appointed artistic director of the Eglevsky Ballet and has choreographed several ballets for that company.

Adami In Methuen Concert

Organist Bruce Adami will be heard at the Methuen Memorial Music Hall at 8:30 p.m. Wednesday, July 13.

Adami holds a Bachelor of Music degree in organ from Oberlin College Conservatory of Music where he studied organ with Haskell Thomson and piano with Miles Mauney. His teachers have included John Hofmann and Erick Brunner. He is organist and choirmaster at Grace Episcopal Church in Lawrence and teaches privately. Adami has given recitals in the Buffalo, Cleveland and Boston areas.

For his program, Adami has selected Prelude and Fugue in b minor, BWV 544, Johann Sebastian Bach; Allein Gott in the Hohl' sei Ehr', BWV 676, Johann Sebastian Bach; Sonata No. 2 in c minor, Op. 65, Felix Mendelssohn; Meditations sur le Mystere de la Sainte Trinite, Olivier Messiaen; Prelude and Fugue in g minor, Marcel Luptre; Choral No. 2 in b minor, Cesar Franck; Symphonie I, Louis Vierne.

Located on Broadway (Route 28), Methuen, the high brick structure houses one of the world's most famous pipe organs, built in Germany by Walcker of Ludwigsburg, originally installed in the old Boston Music Hall and brought to Methuen in 1909 by the late Edward F. Searles.

The next recital, July 20, will be by Barclay Wood, assisted by Paul Willwerth, trumpet.

Summer Festival Of Music

The annual Summer Festival of Chamber Music, a part of the Andover Summer Session music program at Phillips Academy, will commence its eighth season on July 6. The Wednesday concerts will be held each week through Aug. 3 at 7 p.m. in Kemper Auditorium, across from the Andover Inn.

Music will be chosen from the standard repertoire and will include works by Mozart, Beethoven, Bach, Haydn, Brahms, Dvorak and Mendelssohn. The concerts will be performed alternately by faculty and students participating in the program. The faculty is made up of a select group of professional musicians who, in addition to teaching, perform regularly in many of the major cities on the East Coast as well as in the Boston and New England area. This year's group of students comes from all areas of the U.S. and a few come from outside the U.S. as well.

William Thomas, director, invites all music lovers who live in the greater Boston area to come and enjoy in air conditioned comfort what promises to be many fine performances by an exceptional group of talented young musicians. There is no charge for admission.

TRAFFIC PATTERNS

When considering the purchase of a home, you naturally check it out carefully. You look at the construction, rooms, storage space, bathrooms, special features, etc. But there's something else to consider - something you can't actually see, but nevertheless is of prime importance when and if you buy and move in.

It's the matter of traffic patterns. This is related not only to the placement of the rooms and hallways, but also to the amount and kinds of furniture you own. Try to visualize the traffic patterns when inspecting a home. It may even be a good idea to make a rough sketch. You don't want to be stumbling over a sectional sofa when going from the front door to the living room!

Visualizing traffic patterns involves common sense. Just remember, you should be able to get around in your home as smoothly as possible and with a minimum of interference. Bedrooms and recreation areas should also be taken into account as well as the "main" rooms - kitchen, living, dining, etc.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at THE HOWE AGENCY, 4 Punchard Ave., Andover. Phone: 475-5100. We're here to help.

Zoning Board Has Vacancies

The Board of Selectmen will appoint two new members to the Zoning Board of Appeals this month, and they are currently seeking candidates for those positions.

The selectmen last Monday said they will accept applications from interested townspeople, and will interview candidates on Monday, July 11. Applications may be sent to Chairman Gerald Silverman, Office of the Selectmen, Town Hall.

The board also plans to review applications from the town talent bank.

The terms of ZBA member Richard Moody and associate member R. Paul Meunier are about to expire. Carol McDonough's term is also up, but she is expected to accept reappointment.

The selectmen indicated that they may move a current associate member up to Moody's slot and then appoint a new associate member. Associate members now include, besides Meunier, Roger Collins, David Gravailese and Elaine Katz.

The ZBA is chaired by Wesley Whitney, and members include Jane Griswold and Ernest Hall.

Touch Of France

Under the stars and by the sea, romantic French melodies will echo over the Grand Alle, the rolling formal gardens at the Crane Estate, Castle Hill, Ipswich, this summer. In a series entitled "A Touch of France," (four special Wednesday evening concerts beginning July 20 through August 10), four fresh and exciting French talents, introduced by Lyman Carter, Ltd. of Boston, will delight the discriminating concert goer.

In very French tradition concert goers are invited to wine and dine pre-concert on the rolling lawn, enjoying picnic suppers.

The opening concert will be given by the Paris Choir Boys.
